Mrs Effie Morley.

I sent you a telegram about two weeks ago, asking you for money to bury my wife, but never did receive no answer. I don't know why you let me down at a time like that. What made it so hard with me, you told me the night I left to let you know how everything was and you would do all you could. Well I'm not asking you give me anything or my favors, all I want is what's due to me. I wish you would let me know about my insurance money because I am not able to work yet, and I need some money. Mrs Morley I don't want you to think I am angry or foolish.

That would make anybody feel bad, after what you told me you would do.
